To Permit or Not to Permit (Part 2) Sheds, Pergolas and Gazebos

Which of these requires a permit from the Town of Milliken? The answer is all three may require a building permit from the Community Development Department.

Storage sheds that exceed 120 square feet (for example over 10'x12') OR that are permanently attached to the ground by footers or foundation require a building permit. If you have a storage shed that is 120 square feet or under in size, and that will be set on the ground or concrete pad, it will not require a permit. We recommend that these structures not be placed in utility or drainage easements, and the shed should be placed by at least 10' from other structures. All sheds must meet setback requirements in the zoning district.

All Pergolas and Gazebos regardless of size, including free-standing (not attached to the house), require a building permit. If in doubt, please contact the Community Development Department from 8:00am to 5:00pm Mon.-Fri. at (970) 652-5224. We are happy to answer questions and walk you through any permitting processes. -Pepper

A Word From Code Enforcement

As the summer winds down, there are still many yard sales around town. Please do not post your signs on any light poles, stop signs, street signs etc. Some of you have come up with very creative ways to advertise your sales. Please remember to pick up your signs after your sale is over.

Dogs must be under control, by leash or voice command at all times. A dog or cat cannot trespass on anyone's property without permission (this would include urinating or defecating). A dog cannot disturb the neighborhood with constant barking, whining or howling.

The town of Milliken allows 3 dogs per household and all dogs must be licensed. (your pet being licensed could mean the difference between a ride to the Weld County Humane society or just brought back to you).
