"I am his little sister, Bonnie, now living in Wellesley, Ma. Frank graduated from West Point in 1950. He is buried next to our father in the cemetery at Fort Sam Houston (Texas). Our mother, Evelyn Loyd, celebrated her 97th birthday on May 12th. I have told her about your site. She would be happy to hear from any of his classmates through my internet address.

For your records, Frank was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for heroism at Sinan-Myan, Korea, September 26, 1950.

In 1959 the Loyd School was dedicated at Fort Benning, Georgia. My mother and I celebrated its 30th anniversary in 1989 at Fort Benning."

"Frank was the older brother of my close friend, Bonnie Loyd. Their father was in WWII and they did not know that he had survived Bataan and fighting in the Phillipines until the end of the war. We prayed almost every day in chapel for Colonel Loyd. Frank Jr. and some of his friends were accepted to West Point which seemed very glamourous to all the young girls in high school at the time with Bonnie. He was a handsome and wonderful person. His mother is now 97. I just heard from Bonnie at Christmas. We were all devastated at his loss. He had just graduated from West Point when he was sent to Korea."

The Distinguished Service Cross

"DSC Citation

The President of the United States takes pride in presenting the Distinguished Service Cross (Posthumously) to Frank Riley Loyd, Jr. (0-62775), Second Lieutenant (Infantry), U.S. Army, for extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy of the United Nations while serving with Company B, 1st Battalion, 35th Infantry Regiment, 25th Infantry Division. Second Lieutenant Loyd distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in action against enemy aggressor forces near Sinan-Myan, Korea, on 26 September 1950. When Task Force DOLVIN was proceeding along a road, the column was stopped by severe enemy sniper and automatic-weapons fire from the high ground to their right. Lieutenant Loyd, as platoon leader of the 1st platoon, was riding tanks at the rear of the column. When the enemy commenced firing, Lieutenant Loyd, without regard for his own safety, immediately forced fifteen men into an effective fighting force and attacked the hill. In the course of the attack the group was pinned down by devastating enemy fire and grenades. Lieutenant Loyd, although armed only with a pistol, exposed himself to the deadly enemy fire and through his outstanding display of courage, aggressiveness and leadership so inspired his men that they assaulted the position and forced the enemy to withdraw. In this final assault Lieutenant Loyd was killed. Due to his heroic action, an enemy force of what was later determined to be 150 men were forced from well fortified positions.
