NEW RESIDENT'S GUIDE

Welcome to the Village of Suamico. We hope you will find this guide useful in acclimating yourself to our community. Suamico is a rapidly growing area with a nice balance of urban conveniences, up and coming neighborhoods, historic charm and rural characteristics. The Village of Suamico, located in Brown County, covers approximately thirty-six square miles and has a population of just over 13,200 residents. It is situated on the west bank of the bay of Green Bay with water access via the Suamico River. Much of the village is serviced by the Howard-Suamico School District, with a small portion going to Pulaski Community Schools. We are governed at large by a Village Board consisting of six trustees and a village president. The Village contracts with the Brown County Sheriff's Department for police services, County Rescue Services for emergency rescue calls and Harter's Fox Valley Disposal for garbage and recycling services. Our fire protection services are provided by our Fire Chief and a volunteer staff of approximately 40 firefighters. Suamico also has a municipal court that handles traffic and ordinance violations. WELCOME!

Well Permits

Suamico is one of the few communities in Brown County that allows it's residents to keep their existing wells for exterior watering after being connected to the municipal water system. After you have your water tested, you may apply for a well permit at the Municipal Services Center.
